Armest Greetings Colleagues and Friends!

The year-long preparation for our 2016 POGS Annual Convention and 70th Year Anniversary Celebration seemed so short because of the many challenges and difficulties that confront us with economic demands of the times and it will be just a matter of days to target date.

The Organizing Committee and the Board of Trustees have worked hard to shape up a convention worthy to be offered to each member of our esteemed organization – POGS. The date is on November 8-11, 2016 at the PICC and Sofitel as our venues with the theme “POGS @70, Sustaining Efforts for Quality Women's Health”. The sports activities will be on November 06, 2016 with the theme “Run Twogether for Women’s Health” at Camp Aguinaldo Parade Grounds. It will be a buddy run and everyone is enjoined to participate in the spirit of “#Takbo Para sa Ligtas na Pagbubuntis”, our advocacy.

Our dynamic Scientific Committee and amazing Ways and Means Committee really worked hard to bring you an awesome line up of International Experts, foreign and local breeds who will selflessly share with us updated knowledge and skills on what is going on around the globe to learn to better serve our patients. Among those international experts will be John Paul Newnham (Australia) who will discuss on the Prevention of Preterm Births and will tackle Diabetes and Obesity Epidemics.

Dr. Paul Fogarty (North Ireland) to take up Reducing Global Stillbirths to include Patient Safety, A Global Concern.

Dr. Chyi-Long Lee (Taiwan) will update us on Laparoscopic Surgery in Ovarian Cancers and to share with us the experience of a thousand Laparoscopic Radical Hysterectomy in Early Cervical Cancer is Dr. JH Nam (Korea) and Dr. Austin Ugwumadu (United Kingdom) to take up Subclinical Infections and Mid-trimester Pregnancy Loss and Management of Perinatal GBS Disease. Our very own experts will have topics on common Obstetrical and Gynecological conditions and what's up in technology and their current status to improve diagnosis and management to showcase on what we can do. There will be spot dialogue sessions on PhilHealth and AHMOPI concerns and an hour with the President.

This Annual Convention activity is all for you. The social events on the first day includes the Opening Ceremonies where about 400 plus Diplomates will be inducted and because of the increased numbers of Diplomates there will be a change in the usual manner of the induction ceremony which you will be informed through the PBOG communication. Awarders will be acknowledged also for their outstanding contributions to POGS.

This will be followed by the red carpet entry to the Opening Balcony Ball, a raffle to win a “night out” at a club and dance to the Juror. It will be a time to enjoy and socialize.

We hope that members will have the time to really sit down in the Scientific Sessions. Please be reminded that because of the strict compliance of our venues to the government’s regulation of the fire code, we may have to maximize our seats in each session room and only to occupy the allowed sitting capacities so, please come early.

See you all let’s sing, eat, bond and have fun!
